Some very appropriate holiday reading matter will be found on the inside pages of the Herald this week. With the approaching Yuletide comes the thoughts of happy hours in preparation for old Santa Claus.

From the returns received at the time the Herald went to press, the vote on delegates to the constitutional convention gave Harry L. Keefe, of Walthill, a majority of 70 over Emmett H. Gribble of South Sioux City.

Fred Parker and wife were here from South Sioux City Saturday visiting old friends. Mr. Parker stated that his father, A. J. Parker, was getting very feeble, being in his 88th year, and required a constant watcher. Fred has given up his work at the Burlington roundhouse and is attending his father at nights.

Eric Beermann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Coughtry, Wheeler Coughtry, Nathan Coughtry of Minnesota, and Mrs. Harry Eyselen, who is here from Kadoka, S. D., visiting relatives, drove to Wakefield Tuesday to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bieth, old time residents of that locality.

"Love laughs at locksmiths," they say, and so do automobile thieves, according to M. J. Foreshore, who reports that one night last week the garage at his place, the Hugh Graham place and at Archie Coughtry's were visited by thieves, who cut the chains with which spare tires were locked to the cars and swiped their perfectly good tires, also anything else they could get their hands on that could be carried away. From all accounts they made a pretty good haul for one night.

Disabled Soldiers Studying Agriculture

Twenty-five discharged soldiers, disabled in the service, are enrolled in the University of Nebraska for agricultural training under federal aid. About double this number were designated by the government to receive agricultural training at the University. Some, however, decided to ask for different training and some were obliged to return to hospitals for further treatment. Practically all those studying agriculture left the farm for war and have a general working knowledge of farming. Most of them are from this state. One is from New Zealand.

State Reduces Price of Serum

The State Serum Plant is now selling anti-hog cholera serum at 14 cents per c.c. Hog cholera virus, when accompanying serum orders, is sold at 14 cents per c.c., but when virus alone is ordered the price is 2 cents per c.c. The serum is given a thorough pig test at the plant, then a more rigid pig test for potency, and animal inoculation and culture tests for purity, by the University Department of Animal Pathology and Hygiene before it is offered for sale. The virus is tested for virulence by pig inoculation.

Suggestion on Exhibiting Potatoes

Potatoes of best quality can most readily be found in the field at digging time, says a new circular of the College of Agriculture Extension Service, called "Suggestions on Selection and Preparation of Potatoes for Exhibition Purposes." Uniformity, soundness, cleanness, brightness, ripeness and size of exhibits are discussed, with the idea of giving suggestions to those who plan to exhibit at the 1919 Nebraska Potato Improvement association show. Important variety characteristics are also discussed. Ask for horticulture circular No. 10.

Heavy Horses Still Scarce

While there is a surplus of light horses on the farms of the United States, there is still a notable deficiency in heavy, desirable draft horses, say horsemen of the United States Department of Agriculture. Last year, they say, there was a tremendous decrease in mares bred, but during the spring of 1919 a very large percentage of good mares were bred, which is expected largely to meet the future demand for horses of the better type.
